

It's not just pin-striped suits

The City of London is about much more than banks and business; it's a thriving entertainment and shopping venue, a popular tourist destination and home to thousands of residents. Policing an area this diverse demands a unique police force, and City of London Police meets the challenge, keeping the City's workers, residents and tourists safe.

To do this we need a workforce that reflects and understands the diverse nature of the City. We regularly recruit for police officers, PCSOs, Special Constables and civilian staff. If you're ready to make a difference, visit the City of London Police website:
